

An evolution is taking place at AADR—one that will elevate the level of science in our community.

We are expanding our name to better engage and represent multidisciplinary scientists who advance dental, oral, and craniofacial research.

AADR is now the American Association for Dental, Oral, and Craniofacial Research (AADOCR).

Our goal is to:

- Attract all dental, oral, and craniofacial researchers to be members, submit to our journals, and participate in our meetings.
- Engage dental schools and other academic research institutions supporting such researchers.
- Open the doors to scientists championing dental, oral, and craniofacial research that contributes to overall health and well-being.

Join us as our expanded name more accurately reflects our current members and as we welcome new researchers into our professional community.

Connecting the Scientific Community

www.aadocr.org